Vincent E. Perry, Right Eminent Grand Commander

From the Office of your Right Eminent Grand Commander,

Sir Knight Vincent E. Perry:

Another month has come and gone; I was hoping this unpleasantness of this worldwide virus would be closer to a controlled end. Even though there does seem to be light at the end of the dark tunnel, the virus is still taking far too many great lives.

Now, you might ask, with our commanderies closed, our work suspended until this unpleasantness is under control, what would I have to report to the supplement? In the last four months I have witnessed our nurses and first responders report to work to keep us all safe during these troubled times. Some of our elected officials are doing their best to keep our beloved country afloat. I have personally witnessed our brother sir knights and all Masonic bodies looking in on our less fortunate to deliver food, medicine, and any other necessity to their homes and leaving items on their porch.

This is what we as Masons do. And it does my heart good to witness these things.

I think during this time it would be good to work on our ritual and learn a new part for our next class of Brothers. To clean up our uniforms, polish our shoes, and our swords. Call a Brother and see which part he is learning. Perhaps even call a friend you would like to see join our ranks and tell them about how our members are learning new parts. I personally look forward to the first class after this virus is over. Yes, your Grand Commander has seen many, many good things going on during our hard times.

By the way, we as Sir Knights of West Virginia have still not been able to locate our Charter. Please help the Grand Commandery locate this valuable document and return it to our Grand Recorder.

In closing, let us go to the 4th Chapter of St. Mark, Verses 8 and 9: "And others fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some 30, and some 60, and some 100, and he said unto them, he that hath ears to hear let him hear."

God bless each of you and please stay safe,
Vincent E. Perry, Right Eminent Grand Commander
