

New Mexico Supplement

H. C. Sky Olsen
Grand Commander

Sir Knights,

In this Thanksgiving season, we indeed have much for which to be thankful. Our national holiday was instituted so that we might give thanks to our Creator for the bounty he has bestowed upon us. Living in the United States of America, the greatest country in the world, I doubt there is a Sir Knight who is not overwhelmed with gratitude for the blessings our God has showered upon us; plentiful food and clothing, comfortable dwellings, our families, the good fellowship of our Fraters and the freedom to live as we choose and worship our God without the interference of an oppressive or tyrannical government.

We are also blessed with the joy of being able to help others by means of our charity, the Knights Templar Eye Foundation, through which others may be brought from darkness into light, in a truly literal fashion.

By your contributions to our Eye Foundation, strive to be a blessing for whom others are thankful.

I recently came across our greatest President's Thanksgiving Proclamation. Please try to read it with the eyes of an American of 1789. Then read it again through modern eyes. I hope you take the same meaning both times.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

[New York, 3 October 1789]

By the President of the United States of America. a Proclamation.

Whereas it is the duty of all Nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection and favor—and whereas both Houses of Congress have by their joint Committee requested me “to recommend to the People of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many signal favors of Almighty God especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness.”

Now therefore I do recommend and assign Thursday the 26th day of November next to be devoted by the People of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be—That we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks—for his kind care and protection of the People of this Country previous to their becoming a Nation—for the signal and manifold mercies, and the favorable interpositions of his Providence which we experienced in the course and conclusion of the late war—for the great degree of tranquillity, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed—for the peaceable and rational manner, in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national One now lately instituted—for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed; and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and in general for all the great and various favors which he hath been pleased to confer upon us.

and also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations and beseech him to pardon our national and other transgressions—to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually—to render our national government a blessing to all the people, by constantly being a Government of wise, just, and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed—to protect and guide all Sovereigns and Nations (especially such as have shewn kindness unto us) and to bless them with good government, peace, and concord—To promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the encrease of science among them and us—and generally to grant unto all Mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as he alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand at the City of New-York the third day of October in the year of our Lord 1789.

Go: Washington

Courteously,

H. C. Sky Olsen

Grand Commander

505-269-2039 skyolsen@ymail.com

Photo by Michele Balke

Supplement Editor: Stephen A. Balke 505-730-7189 ktmag@nmyorkrite.org
Please send article drafts and comments/suggestions to the email above.