Greetings Sir Knights,

It is hard to believe it but we are already a month into 2022. Time moves quickly and we are as well. As we start to pick up momentum and move towards Easter and inspections season, we should be cognoscente of how we spend our time. We have lots to do not only in Freemasonry but also in our day-to-day lives. February is only 28 days and it will be over in the blink of an eye. I hope that you have made plans for Easter and will be joining us in Washington DC, and that you have been working in your Commanderies to get ready for your inspection, and of course working candidates and conferring orders. It has been so long and I know that knocking off the rust is a bit of a challenge. So while we are all running at break neck speed let me ask and remind you all to stop, slow down each day and think about what is important in your life and make sure that the speed of your days and nights is not putting what is important on a back burner. Time is something we never get back. We never get those moments with our family and friends back; we do not get a do over. Take time to plan and make decisions that do not distract us from what is important in our lives.

I very good friend of mine reminded me just this week how important it is to stop and sit with those you love and share a meal. Make sure you are at that family dinner or event and that you share your time with your family as well as your Masonic family. Embrace those you love and make sure they know how important and special they are to you and difference they make in our lives. Please stay safe and warm this winter season

Yours in Christ,

Sir Knight Peter A. Mooradian
